

2010 College Commitments

Our 2010 class is our first "graduating class" of Gamers. Many of these players have made college baseball commitments, and several more are still deciding which opportunity to pursue. This list is continuously being updated.

Our 2010 players are an exceptional group of young men. Very good, hard working baseball players with an average GPA of 3.6 and average ACT score of 27. We are very proud of them.

As of June 15, 2010 -- 23 players have committed to 21 different colleges in 11 different states. These are great colleges, with great baseball programs. That is 23 out of 27 eligible players from our 2010 class, OR 85% going on to play college baseball at very good schools.

Matt Hollman - Rockhurst (MO)

Derek Mazzio - SLU (MO)

Justin Helbert - MIT (MA)

Kevin Pohle - Clemson (SC)

Brendon Pashia - DePauw (IN)

Tyler Hutson - Spring Hill (AL)

Taylor Howe - Wheaton (IL)

Jacob Ripp - Southeast Missouri (MO)

Tyler Wood - Furman (SC)

Jonathon Glidewell - Arkansas State (MO)

Patrick Lyons - DePauw (IN)

Dustin Bickmeyer - Jefferson Davis (AL)

Andrew Beisel - Missouri State (MO) (football)

Jordan Allen - Westminster (MO)

Bryan Neidbalski - University of Iowa (IA)

Jake Hirniak - Olney Central College (IL)

Andrew Ostapowicz - Creighton (NE)

Corey Gall - Maryville (MO)

Paul Richmond - University of Missouri St. Louis (MO)

Nick Scarfino - Quincy (IL)

Mason Hutson - Washburn University (KS) (football and baseball)

Scott Szarek - Meramec (MO)